$100,000,000 WILL GO FOR PLANE SERVICE

ROME, Aug. 3.—Official decrees published here last night revealed new plans for air force and naval expansion by Italy.
An appropriation of 1,200,000,000 lire—about $100,000,000—will be poured into the military air force during the next two or three years.
The decree provides that this sum be spent during the present and "coming years" in increasing the nation's air defense forces.
BRIEF PERIODS
The number of ensuing years was not given, but it was generally believed the expenditure, which the official gazette listed as "extraordinary," will be made over a relatively brief period.
Another decree authorized appropriations of $40,000,000 lire to be spent between 1933 and 1940. The earlier decree stipulated the expenditure was complementary to the usual appropriations for new construction.

MAN BURNED TO DEATH IN BLAZING BARN

John Krulick, 42, May Have Been Victim of Fool Play

Having lived in fear of death for several years, according to statements of those close to the family, suspicion points to the probability that John Krulick, 42, burned to death in his barn, just north of the city limits, early Friday, was a victim of fool play and R.C.M.P. are investigating that angle of the terrible death.
Krulick, a Ukrainian and father of a family of four, who operated a market garden on seven acres at 127 street and 127 avenue, southwest of the city, was found burned to death when the barn, in which he was in the habit of sleeping in warm weather, was burned in the great smolder 4 a.m. Friday.

Mystery Follows Loss of Secrets

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Afternoon newspapers said today in dispatches from Portsmouth, that "highly important admiralty documents relating the trial of enemy ships and guns" are missing.
According to these accounts, the loss occurred from a train in transit from the Waterloo station in London to Portsmouth. The admiralty, however, denied any knowledge of any loss.
According to the press story, the alleged documents are supposed to have been in a red dispatch box placed in the guard's coach of a train which left London at night. The box was in the custody of an admiralty messenger, who was accompanied by a superintendent over-seer.
It was related that when the messenger and over-seer went to collect the box from the guard's compartment, after the train had stopped 16 times en route, the box was missing.

Nazis Face Rifle Squad

U.S. TO SPEND $33,000,000 IN AIR DEFENCES

United States anti-aircraft defenses inadequate.

Secretary of War George Dorn, as a result of a recent inspection, is devising a plan, (relying that the Panama Canal is really a strategic point in defense against enemy aircraft).

Army men are moving to strengthen their defenses. The air corps has submitted a request for about 1,000 planes to bring its strength up to 2,500, the number of the Newton D. Baker investigating committee.

At present the United States has four skeletonized anti-aircraft organizations in this country, and in Panama, Hawaii and the Philippines. The war department would bring these units to full strength and equipment. The national guard organizations also are described as "woefully lacking in equipment."

Italian Troops Wind Down Mountain To Mobilize

The world is tensely watching as Italian troops wind their way down the mountain sides to mobilize on the Austrian frontier prior to intervention in Nazi terrorism in Austria. German troops are reported headed for the Austrian-German border in a counter move. Map shows the two frontiers which will be venues for any pending European conflict.

Jugoslavia's two million soldiers are standing ready for immediate mobilization following the announcement from government circles that armed intervention by Italy in the critical Austrian situation is necessary.

ADMIRAL SAYS CANADA NEEDS MORE DEFENCE

Chief of the British Fleet Thinks Canada Has Poor-est of Dominions

QUEBEC, Aug. 3.—Canada is the worst defended dominion of them all. She should have some defence of her own. There should certainly be more naval units," these comments were made Thursday by Sir Reginald Yorke Tyrrwhit, admiral of the British fleet, on landing here en route to the reunion of the Canadian corps in Toronto.

Continuing his comments on Canada's defences, Admiral Tyrrwhit said he "understood a naval college was once started in Canada but it did not amount to much."

"Naturally," he added, "I am interested in the defence of trade routes and that is a subject of great importance to Canada."

Increase Shown In Provincial Savings Deposits

During the first six months of the current year, provincial savings certificates showed an increase in deposits of $338,250, according to figures compiled by the provincial treasurer's department. There are now about 7000 depositors in savings certificates, mostly small investors and drawn from many walks of life.

In the six months period under review, demand certificates deposits bearing interest at three and one-half percent decreased by $380,000, while term deposits, for one, two and three years, bearing interest at five per cent, increased by $745,000, leaving a net gain of $365,250.

At June 30 of this year, the total amount on deposit in certificates was $9,400,000, of which $3,800,000 was in term certificates and $5,600,000 in term.

This total is approximating the peak year of 1929 when the deposits totalled $11,700,000. The low year was 1932 when there was $8,500,000 on deposit.

In 1933, the year the depression came on, there was $9,000,000 on deposit, so the amount invested on June 30 was approximately the same.

There has been a steady gain since 1932, with $400,000 increase in 1933 over 1932, all of which indicates an upward trend of conditions.

DANGER LURKS WHERE COAST COUPLE GOING

Vancouver Man and Wife Ready to Start Dangerous Climb Up Peak

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3.—Alpine enthusiasts prepared here last night to wait at least three or four weeks for news of four of their number now in British Columbia's hinterland making ready for an assault on the unconquered southeast peak of 13,260-foot Mount Waddington.

Mc and Mrs. Don Murday of Vancouver, who made the first ascent of Waddington's lower peak several years ago, were to add the virgin southeast pinnacle to their list of conquest. With them are Henry S. Hall, Jr., of Boston and Hans Fuhrer, Swiss guide.

The ascent is filled with peril and the mountain has already claimed one life this year. On June 28, Alce Delgros of Vancouver, was killed in a fall from the ice-crosted face of the southeast peak as he and two companions made a futile attempt to gain the lofty summit many thousands feet above the snow level.

British Columbia To Be Afforded Royal Commission

OTTAWA, Aug. 3.—A royal commission to investigate the adequacy of Dominion subsidies to British Columbia was sought today by Premier T. D. Pattullo of the Pacific Coast province. No immediate reply was made by Premier R. B. Bennett, who heard the appeal with his entire cabinet.

For two hours the Pacific premier and two of his cabinet, premier-general C. M. St. John and minister of finance John Hart, were closeted with the Dominion cabinet. Later today they will submit the second plank in their Pacific rights programme—sale of the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern railway to the Canadian National system.

A royal commission to investigate subsidies paid to the Maritime provinces was agreed to yesterday by Prime Minister Bennett. Following the conference today, Premier Pattullo said he was hopeful his request would be granted also.

REGINA, Aug. 3.—A man of burned and twisted wreckage today is all that remains of the 80-foot steel bridge over the White Sand river eight miles east of Yorkton, Sask., destroyed by fire believed to be of incendiary origin.

PRAHA DENIES CROWN RUMOR

BRUSSELS, Aug. 3.—Reports that former Empress Zita of Austria and her son, Archduke Otto, claimant to the Hapsburg throne, have left for Italy have persisted here for several days but could not be confirmed. These reports said Zita and Otto are now residing with the Bourbon-Parma family.

PRAHA, Aug. 3.—News emanating from a number of sources to the effect that the Little Entente had been prevailed upon by western powers to renounce its mission as the only way of averting a German-Austrian Anschluss was denied here Wednesday and at the same time indicated as a significant feint.

One rumor was that the western powers, presumably Great Britain and France, had met at Vienna and persuaded representatives of the Little Entente to drop opposition to such restoration.

Czechoslovakian newspapers commented on the rumors in sharp editorial, denying them, and saying that they were fed by the German press to the effect that the Little Entente to drop opposition to such restoration.

Alaska May Be Haven For Farmers Of U.S.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 3.—Alaska may offer a haven for drought-harassed farmers of the United States, through a government colonization plan.

James Baker, assistant chief of the federal emergency relief administration, surveyed 1,000,000 acres of the fertile Matanuska Valley and is en route today to discuss with Governor John T. Jay the feasibility of bringing 2,500 families to a federal colony in Alaska.

SOVIET BACKS SECURITY PACT

MOSCOW, Aug. 3.—The Soviet Union and Lithuania joined in stating their approval of the proposed Eastern Regional Security Pact Thursday after several conferences between Maxim Litvinoff, commissar for foreign affairs, and foreign minister Lozansky.

A communiqué last night said there is need for "collective measures of guarantee for all countries of Eastern Europe" and that the most important measure is an Eastern Regional Pact of mutual assistance.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

SAFETY
SERVICE

During 1933, of 9,434,812 passengers carried, not a single life was lost on the Canadian National Railway trains through collision, derailment, or failure of equipment.

There is No Substitute for Safety ..... at Any Price.

It is easy to take for granted the safety of railway travel—easy, amid the excitement and pleasure of a holiday trip or in the commonplace run to and from business, to be oblivious to all the care and labour which go to make railway journeys the safest means of transportation in the world. Yet it should receive more than a passing thought, for it represents what is perhaps the greatest achievement of railroading.

To ensure the maximum of safety the highest demands are made on personnel and material. All operating employees must be in perfect physical condition and strict medical examinations are regularly made. They must further be skilled in their various occupations. In many passenger train crews will be found men who have spent more than twenty years in faithful service and have thereby acquired knowledge, resource, and dependability. The lessons which experience has taught are embodied in rules with which each operating employee is familiar, and in regard to which implicit obedience is imperative.

Behind all this, however, is a more important factor—the railwaymen themselves. No system, however carefully thought out, can be better than the men whose duty it is to administer it. Because of this, Canadian National employees are pledged, as their first consideration in all circumstances, to the strict observance of all rules and the prompt and faithful performance of all actions which make for safety of life and property.

This safety of railway travel is, therefore, no casual matter. It is the result of the adoption of the most rigorous standards and the application at all seasons and times of one principle—that nothing will be tolerated in railway operation which is not safe . . . no shortcuts . . . no experiments . . . no substitutes.

At this season of the year when travel in all its forms is at its peak and highways are crowded, this matter of safety is of unusual importance. It should receive the serious consideration of the traveller, whether for long or short distances. Such consideration will show another and powerful reason for travelling by the C. N. R.

RESTORATION DREAMS

Quite naturally, the Hapsburgs—and their friends—think they see in the disturbed conditions in Austria a chance to reconstruct the Austro-Hungarian empire, to recall the emperor and to chamber again onto the throne from which they were ousted.

They are probably only indulging the dangerous dream of restoring monarchs and sons of fallen dynasties. They may attempt a restoration, but that they can succeed seems by no means likely. It is not certain that any such attempt would change Austria's civil war into one of the kind. There is no reason to suppose that Austria and Britain would back a restoration movement, and without such backing Prince Otto could neither gain nor hold the throne. Austria's neighbors on the east and north, who profited by the dismemberment of the old empire, would see to that.

For these, Col. Henry Waterman's historic dictum must stand as the rule of conduct and the code of self-interest: "To hell with the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs!"

EDMONTON'S CHOICE

Decision of the Dominion Government to cut its relief contributions to Alberta by one-sixth of the former amount will mean a scaling down of relief allowances or a scaling up of the cost to the municipalities of the province.

Allowances are not to be cut, and any scaling down in the face of a rising cost of living would be unthinkable. If the cost of living relief remains about as at present, Edmonton taxpayers will have to make up one-sixth of the amount hitherto drawn from the Dominion, $5,000 a month, or $60,000 during the next year.

There is no way by which that extra sum can be collected in current taxation; current taxes are not being paid by a mark that is positively dangerous, at present. If the city has to pay more it will have to borrow, or slash salaries and services, or find some other way to the further destruction of business.

Unless, of course, the city council is prepared to face the situation with courage and tell the bond-holders that they have made a cut in the wages paid them for the use of their money.

The decision at Ottawa has thus supplied an issue for the coming civic election. Is Edmonton going to cut relief allowances to its unemployed citizens, or will it stand by the interest rates on its bonds and use the money to supply food, clothing and shelter to families who have been broken by unemployment of their means of subsistence?

HITLER'S OPPORTUNITY

Sixteen years ago no one can have imagined that the time would come when the world would look to Hindenburg, more than to any other man, to preserve peace in Europe. But for the past week newspaper readers in all countries and continents have scanned the despatches from Berlin, with anxiety lest the aged president of Germany should utter a word that would mean the end of the world.

"After him, the deluge" has been the thought in millions of minds. In Allied countries it has been the thought that the "bulldog" line" across the western front, came to be regarded, rightly or wrongly, as the one man who could hold Germany back from plunging into revolution—might easily have been replaced by less responsible men into another European war.

Hindenburg is dead, and Hitler is in full control at Berlin, with what purposes nobody knows, and with what consequences can be only guessed. It is entirely possible, and in line with precedents without number, that a sense of responsibility may steady the fey leader, and the course hitherto given little enough encouragement to any such hope.

Hitler has a clear field, and an opportunity to do for his country and for Europe a service greater than that of the best of his predecessors. He apparently is firmly in the saddle. If he chooses to temper his conduct, and still more his speech, he may be well situated to bring tranquility and confidence to disturbed and distrustful Europe. That is what many and its best men most need, and the initiative rests with Hitler.

CROWDING THE PROVINCES

Alberta, according to press despatches, will get $75,000 per month from the Dominion treasury during the next year toward the cost of unemployment relief. For the past year the federal contributions have averaged $90,000 per month. The "lump sum" allowance for the coming year will be less than the average of the grants for last year.

If unemployment relief is a diminishing obligation the lump sum will perhaps be sufficient to meet the needs, without increase in the burden upon provincial and municipal taxpayers. If the demand does not decline, either relief allowances will have to be cut down or the province and municipalities will have to contribute more. If relief has to be given to many more people than at present, the situation will pass out of control, since the province and municipalities are alike unable to make any substantially heavier contributions than they are now making.

Nobody knows whether unemployment, victims will grow less numerous or more numerous. The trend of improvement is not sufficiently defined to make certain that it will continue and will spread early into this province. That is the danger inherent in the lump sum arrangement—and the reason the provincial governments protested against it being forced upon them. It is a very more dangerous here than in other provinces, for the reason that the signs of improvement are less apparent, in fact are scarcely visible.

If very many more people have to be taken care of next winter than last, one of two things must happen. Either the Dominion will have to reduce its contribution, or the province, or the Government of Alberta will have to tell its bond-holders they must wait for their interest or compromise at a lower rate.

That is the predicament into which Alberta is being forced by the refusal of the Dominion to continue contributing on a proportionate basis. Anybody who has a sharp increase in unemployment must produce a crisis in the final "straw" to make the load unbearable.

Poems That Live

POVERTY

Has Heaven revealed, fully to the poor
No pathless waste, or undiscovered shore?
No secret island in the boundless main?
No peaceful desert yet uncultured Spain?
Quick to rise, the happy slave explores
And her oppression's innocence no more.
This mournful truth is everywhere confessed,
Slaves rise with poverty's oppressor.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

The world has advanced in the past month while this column was more or less dormant.

A number of Germans, estimated as high as two thousand, have been hurried out of this life for disagreement with Nazism.

The Fascists of Great Britain, the young Oswald Mosley have been allowed to discredit themselves by brutalities by hired hoodlums—the Storm Troopers of the English movement.

The Quebec quintuplets, growing up in favour with God and the showmen—one of them growing a tumor in the incubator—have been disgraced by sextuplets in Europe.

J. S. Cowper The new British challenger for the America Cup has set sail across the Atlantic for the contest.

Several Hollywood celebrities have been divorced on the reason why divorcee: Elissa Landi says her English barrister husband won't live with her in Hollywood for fear of being called "Mr. Landi" in the Hollywood fashion. I can understand any sensitive man shrinking from being labelled "Mr. Clara Bow" or "Mr. Mae West," but one might be expected to carry the idea a little further.

The most intellectual and high-charactered as well as most beautiful of the Hollywood ladies.

Discussing a magazine article on "The New Morality" of Hollywood with a friend who has some inside contacts with that exotic place, I learned a few things about the reason for the so often tread quickly on the heels of Hollywood marriage.

The writer of the "New Morality" article says that frankness and honesty between all parties is the keynote of the "Design for Living" relationships in the picture city. My friend quotes names and cases to support an explanation that marriage is often only a social convenience, a relationship, a game for a game of faith, and to pave the way for a formal breaking-off by way of divorce.

A strange world of its own, Hollywood.

Over in England a Russian ex-prisoner who considered herself labelled in the film play "Rasputin," has been upheld in a $125,000 damages verdict by the Ontario Court of Appeal granted leave for a further appeal to the House of Lords Committee—the equivalent of the Privy Council for overseas appeals—on the condition that the award shall be increased by a further $25,000.

This affords a curious contrast in the ways by which the law estimates damage. The lady gets the $125,000 or $150,000 award because she reads herself into the character of a woman of ancient lineage and of seduced by Rasputin. For this sort of seduction by proxy under another name the lady received the damages award. A young girl who had been actually seduced in Alberta under her own name, she wouldn't have a cent, unless she had been able to prove that the seduction had interfered with her earning capacity. She might have had to pay the legal costs for the other side.

Perhaps you can explain the reasoning. It's beyond me.

Here's a timely little poem clipped from the New York Sun.

TO MEN IN PUBLIC LIFE
He who walks a tight-rope
Over the sea,
Had better walk in silence
Carefully.

The rope is narrow,
And the sea is wide,
And the rope keeps swaying
From side to side.

The rope hangs unevenly,
The sea is deep,
And he who walks a tight-rope
Has long to sleep.

He who walks a tight-rope
Had better not talk,
But keep his eyes in front of him,

—David P. Benbun.

You've heard people assert that the depression is world-wide. A report to the New Zealand parliament upon the administration of the mandated territory of Western Samoa, reveals one country at least where no poverty exists.

Says the report:

"The social system of the Samoan people is such that poverty can not exist. All families (or, more correctly, clans) are well endowed with land, and their needs are fully met by the little difficulty in growing all food supplies required. Their wants in the way of clothing are few, and although the lavas or lava-lavas are few, and although the material is, it is for all general purposes, and all clothing worn by adult men and women is made of the bark of the tree, and additional upper garment usually being worn by the women.

"Samoa are conservative in the matter of housing, in that they have shown no tendency to adopt European ideas as to design and construction, as have been done by other peoples of the Pacific having the same commercial contact.

"The economic depression has not affected the natives of Western Samoa to nearly the same extent as European communities. A strong conservatism has retained observance of the best of native customs, and to general village life and employment."

The Samoans are not slaves to the elements in the way that we western Canadians are, with our cold, our heat, our heavy frosts in the winter months, they being simple and for the most part capable of being satisfied by nature, they do not lend themselves to speculation by taxes and gentlemen's agreements between the robber barons of the politico-industrial age.

Lucky a Samoan! Let us hope that the Samoans will contribute to funds to bring to these happy

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: H. Y. T. writes—"I wish you would kindly advise me as to the food value of ripe olives packed in tin containers. Is there any reason why a person should not eat as many of them as he likes?"

ANSWER: Olives may be added to salad or used by themselves. They contain a large amount of vegetable oil and are not so good in too great a quantity. Ripe olives are to be preferred to the green ones, and are rendered more palatable by the addition of salt. They are used for several hours in cold water before being eaten, as this will extract some of the salt brine which they are put up in. Olives packed in tin containers are not so good as those which are fresh. QUESTION: D. H. asks: "Should Melba toast be buttered?"

ANSWER: Melba toast should be buttered fresh as it is being eaten. By actual experience I have found that there seems to be some interference with the other foods eaten with Melba toast when the butter is allowed to melt on the toast as it is being made. This may sound a little unreasonable, but my advice is to butter each bit as it is eaten.

Public Libraries Will Be Operated By One Committee

Work of Canadian Libraries to be Centralized, Says Mr. E. L. Hill

Mr. E. L. Hill of the Edmonton Public Library, who returned recently from attending the sixth annual convention of the Canadian Library Association, reports that one of the chief items on the agenda and one of the greatest successes of the convention was the appointment of a committee with power to act in the matter of establishing a Canadian headquarters to centralize the work of organizing and operating the Canadian public libraries.

This committee consists of representatives from each of the provinces and hopes to establish within the next year a permanent central committee. The committee was organized largely due to the efforts of Mr. John Piddington of the library at the University of British Columbia, Mr. E. L. Hill of the library here and Mr. E. R. Robinson of the Vancouver Public Library, who have also much time and thought into the project, are also members of the committee. Another enthusiastic worker is Miss Mary Black of the Fort William Public Library, who has taken a prominent part in library extension work of the committee.

Mr. Hill stated that there is good reason to believe that the Carnegie Corporation of New York will agree to the project with a substantial grant in order to maintain the committee over a preliminary period of five years.

About two thousand delegates or members of the association were in attendance at the convention, which has only been held twice before in Canada and once in Montreal. The members attending received all the latest news of library activity, including extension work, adult education, college libraries, research libraries and public libraries of all sorts. The large variety of interests represented made it necessary to have a great number of separate meetings at the same time, and it permitted the members to attend the sessions which they desired the greatest benefit.

The sessions were presided over by Mrs. Maria Connelley of the Public Library of Minneapolis.

Between Lectures

The final open session in music appreciation was given by the chorus and music club in Convocation Hall, Friday afternoon at four o'clock. The program included a tenor solo by Mr. Kennedy, a duet by Mr. Kennedy and Mr. McCormick. A number of songs and dances were included. The sessions have been given occasionally during the summer and have always been greatly appreciated by music lovers on the campus.

The first classes of the summer school to close were those in drama which finished Tuesday afternoon. Elizabeth Steffen Hays and Mr. Theodore Cohen led Wednesday for Bassett which will be conducting classes at the annual school of drama to be held there this month.

The final tennis draws which were to have been played Tuesday were cancelled on account of rain and are to be played Wednesday afternoon. Miss Mary Black will meet Miss Beaulieu at four o'clock to determine the ladies singles winner and Mr. Cliff Willette will be the winner of the men's singles.

A tour of the University buildings is to be made Saturday morning for all those interested. Dean Howes will conduct the party which is to be held at 10 a.m.

Fashions are in keeping With Slender Silhouettes Lines

Although the latest dressmakers have not exhibited, the fashions are almost unanimously decreed to be in keeping with the slender silhouette. The skirts are rich to 11 or 12 inches from the ground. This gives to 8, 10, 12, and afternoon frocks to 16, 18, 20, and 22 inches.

The greatest display of two-toned or multicolored dresses, woven in a harmonious blend of colors, which were ever had, is being shown this season, indicating they will be all the rage this fall.

The second was reminiscent of the styles of 1900 and the models were designed of plum, dark blue and grey wools. They had fitted high length skirts with them were worn white lingerie, jackets, brooches and colorful waisted blouses. The hats were dark frocks turned up in back and down in front, trimmed with brilliant tulle.

New Slant On Hats

Brass Cartridge Belt is the Latest Smart Accessory

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Armoured, like a medieval knight, or a well-protected bank truck, the lady of fashion is wearing a new slant on hats this autumn.

If you see an apparition on the boulevard, you might be wrong in an aluminum cape or a chromium-plated skirt, with a wide brim, don't give a wide berth. She isn't one of those newfangled actresses; she's just a modern Miss dressed in the height of style.

Style artists, gathered here for a preview of fall fashions, revealed metal as one of the newest fabrics for autumn wear. Its use, they admitted, is limited as yet.

While aluminum capes may blush, they never wear out for cleaning just a quick swipe with the polish, and they are glittering as new. And besides, they are light and so flexible they can be rolled up into a metal purse.

As for accessories, at least one item is certain to attract attention of strolling policemen.

That is, a brass cartridge belt. The street with the glittering belt, don't shoot—it's just a fashionable item in certain newfangled attire made of brass, aluminum or gold.

Such a lot has been heard of the great "service" organization, the R.P.O.E., in fact, that their dominion convention in Jasper last week and the members of the "service" they did, was to change the weather. With the first day, the sun shined and the wind continued to blow. Whether it was the R.P.O.E. or the R.P.O.E. it down, packed up with his big gun, "the weather" and he left it down, in the coat, we don't know, anyway it is here, and everybody is wearing it.

On Sunday the memorial services in memory of Nurse Edith Cavell, the martyred English nurse, will be held at the Memorial Church, 1015 Broadway, at 11 a.m. The service will be conducted by the Rev. S. A. Bradshaw, rector of St. Mary's and St. John's, Anglican church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown will be patrons of the dinner arranged at the Edmonton Golf and Country Club on Saturday evening for the visitors playing in the provincial golf tournament at the Country Club this week-end. The men's committee are in charge of arrangements. The presentation of prizes will take place on Monday afternoon.

Members of the Royal Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club successfully defended the Jackson cup on Thursday in games played with rinks from the Alberta Avenue club. Skips on the successful teams were Mrs. J. D. Brown and Mrs. J. H. Matthews.

Patricia Lawrie, bowling club president, will hold games at the club on Friday evening, commencing at 7:30 p.m. All members are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Whitehead have returned from a motor trip to Jasper Park.

Miss Margaret Buchanan, who is at present visiting in Quebec, is expected to return to Edmonton at the end of the month.

What a wonderful new world it has opened to her. "We do not know what Hitlerism is," said a young man at the moment, "but we hope for the best."

Longer Skirts For Winter Gowns Are In The Mode

Fashions are in keeping With Slender Silhouettes Lines

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Longer skirts are appearing in displays of winter fashions here.

Although the latest dressmakers have not exhibited, the fashions are almost unanimously decreed to be in keeping with the slender silhouette. The skirts are rich to 11 or 12 inches from the ground. This gives to 8, 10, 12, and afternoon frocks to 16, 18, 20, and 22 inches.

The greatest display of two-toned or multicolored dresses, woven in a harmonious blend of colors, which were ever had, is being shown this season, indicating they will be all the rage this fall.

The second was reminiscent of the styles of 1900 and the models were designed of plum, dark blue and grey wools. They had fitted high length skirts with them were worn white lingerie, jackets, brooches and colorful waisted blouses. The hats were dark frocks turned up in back and down in front, trimmed with brilliant tulle.

Miss Agnes McKinnon of Bonnyville who has been the guest of her hosts, arrived in Edmonton on Saturday morning for a week's stay. She is leaving on Saturday to motor to her home in Calgary, Alberta, where she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKinnon.

New Slant On Hats

Brass Cartridge Belt is the Latest Smart Accessory

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Armoured, like a medieval knight, or a well-protected bank truck, the lady of fashion is wearing a new slant on hats this autumn.

If you see an apparition on the boulevard, you might be wrong in an aluminum cape or a chromium-plated skirt, with a wide brim, don't give a wide berth. She isn't one of those newfangled actresses; she's just a modern Miss dressed in the height of style.

Style artists, gathered here for a preview of fall fashions, revealed metal as one of the newest fabrics for autumn wear. Its use, they admitted, is limited as yet.

While aluminum capes may blush, they never wear out for cleaning just a quick swipe with the polish, and they are glittering as new. And besides, they are light and so flexible they can be rolled up into a metal purse.

As for accessories, at least one item is certain to attract attention of strolling policemen.

That is, a brass cartridge belt. The street with the glittering belt, don't shoot—it's just a fashionable item in certain newfangled attire made of brass, aluminum or gold.

Such a lot has been heard of the great "service" organization, the R.P.O.E., in fact, that their dominion convention in Jasper last week and the members of the "service" they did, was to change the weather. With the first day, the sun shined and the wind continued to blow. Whether it was the R.P.O.E. or the R.P.O.E. it down, packed up with his big gun, "the weather" and he left it down, in the coat, we don't know, anyway it is here, and everybody is wearing it.

On Sunday the memorial services in memory of Nurse Edith Cavell, the martyred English nurse, will be held at the Memorial Church, 1015 Broadway, at 11 a.m. The service will be conducted by the Rev. S. A. Bradshaw, rector of St. Mary's and St. John's, Anglican church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown will be patrons of the dinner arranged at the Edmonton Golf and Country Club on Saturday evening for the visitors playing in the provincial golf tournament at the Country Club this week-end. The men's committee are in charge of arrangements. The presentation of prizes will take place on Monday afternoon.

Members of the Royal Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club successfully defended the Jackson cup on Thursday in games played with rinks from the Alberta Avenue club. Skips on the successful teams were Mrs. J. D. Brown and Mrs. J. H. Matthews.

Patricia Lawrie, bowling club president, will hold games at the club on Friday evening, commencing at 7:30 p.m. All members are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Whitehead have returned from a motor trip to Jasper Park.

Miss Margaret Buchanan, who is at present visiting in Quebec, is expected to return to Edmonton at the end of the month.

MANFIELD, O. Aug. 3.—(By) have yourself—that's the key to long life! That was the message of Dr. D. B. Miller, Richmond county health officer, when he celebrated his ninety-fourth birthday. He never has missed a day at work, and says he never has been ill a day in his life because of his cold bath and setting-up exercises each morning. He admits he is a hard drinker of milk and buttermilk.

RAFT UPSETS, FIVE DROWNED

SYDNEY, Nova Scotia, Aug. 3.—Five boys were drowned last night when their craft capsized on Bickerton's Lake, about five miles from this city.

The boys were brothers, sons of A. E. Camus, a Sydney barber who moved to the lake recently. Identity of the fifth victim was unknown as Royal Canadian Mounted Police and volunteers began a search for bodies.

WORLD'S FAIR THIEF CAUGHT
CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—The world's fair is not going to be moved out of Chicago's public market on Maxwell street if it police have anything to say about it.

That's why they jailed Bernard Pollock, 30, peddler.
Pollock, they allege, was discharging among junk dealers—trifling considerations—priceless treasures once the property of Mrs. Smith of Hamilton, was recovered. The antiques were stolen from General Guadalupe, wealthy Mexican, at a railway station as he arrived to exhibit them at the fair.

Simple Tests Show Quality Of Melons

By MARY E. DAGUE
Picking a melon is as much of a gamble as choosing a husband. You may get a good one. If you have a trained ear, the time-honored practice of thumping watermelon with your knuckles is a reliable test. A full-grown ripe melon has a dull, muffled sound when thumped, while a green one sounds metallic. The ripe melon has a greenish yellow skin, and the green one is "pink".
If the under-side of the watermelon is a pale yellow, lemon or a warm ivory color, or with the skin thin, the melon is ripe. A warm yellowish green rather than a bright clear green on the top indicates ripeness. However, the variety of the melon influences the color to some extent.

THUMB-NAIL TEST
There's a thin film-like coating all over the surface of a watermelon. When the thumb nail is drawn across it, this coating will peel off like dry wax if the melon is ripe. If the coating is still there, the melon is not ripe.
At all times, mis-shapen melons should be avoided, the natural shape of the fruit is of no importance, round or long melons being equally good.
Large melons are more desirable than small ones, but a small, heavy melon is preferable to a lightweight large one.
Over-ripe melons may be detected by the dull appearance of the rind and the large number of yellow veins showing through the green skin.
If a part of a melon is bought, keep in mind that the flesh should be a deep pink or a brick red well out to the rind with a lively silver sheen over it all.
MUST MATURE ON VINES
Regardless of variety, all melons must have plenty of heat before they can reach maturity, so weather conditions through the country have much to do with the quality of the fruit. They must mature on the vines and they must be ripe when cut for use. They may ripen after picking without greatly harming the flavor, but full growth must be allowed before harvesting.
Thoroughly chilled watermelon is refreshing for summer meals. Serve as a cocktail with a sherry dressing in a glass, or in a sherbet or a frappe. Since it is chiefly water, it is of little fuel value and adds a minimum of calories to one's diet, though rich in vitamin C.

Britain Finds Confidence In Germany Going

Distinct "Cooling" of Diplomatic Relations Noticed From London—Fears Felt as Hitler Rules.

By ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Aug. 3.—Great Britain's apprehension over Germany's future, now that Von Hindenburg is dead and Adolf Hitler has become the sole arbiter of that nation's affairs, is sharpened by a noticeable "cooling off" in Anglo-German relations during the last few months.

A series of moves, including the German debt controversy and the Austrian situation, has caused differences to increase at the moment the one man required the greatest stabilizing influence in Germany passed on.

NOT SURE NOW
Sources close to the British government pointed out Thursday that the British cabinet is not sure of the German situation, and the German situation is not sure of the British situation.

There was a notable lack of public comment from cabinet members on the recent visit of Lord Rothermere to Berlin, despite the fact that the British ambassador to Berlin, Lord Rothermere, is a personal communication.

NEW PROCEDURE
It suggested that the customary procedure of addressing a message of condolences to an official successor, in this instance Hitler, was explained. Great Britain has received no official notice of Hitler's accession to the presidency.

CHARGE LAID
ON PODERJAY
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Capt. Ivan Poderjay, sought for questioning in the disappearance of his bride, Agnes C. Tuferson, was indicted Thursday on perjury charges.

ALCAZAR WINS
CHESTERFIELD
GOODWOOD, Eng. Aug. 3.—Wm. Woodward's Alcazar, held at odds of 10 to 1, today won the mile and a quarter Chesterfield cup, feature of the Goodwood meeting.

Astor's Bright Bird
Wins At Goodwood
GOODWOOD, Eng. Aug. 3.—Lord Astor's Bright Bird, an odds on favorite at 4 to 6, today won the Gordon stakes at one and a half miles by a length and a half from Lord Derby's Phyllis. J. H. Mung's Snowden was third. Four ran.

What's the What
As I am going away to camp next Saturday I intend to write to some of my friends—both boys and girls. I shall be there four weeks. I know I should write to the girls first, but they have written to me first, but should I write first to the boys or the girls? Should I address the title to the boys "Master" or "Mr." or leave off the title entirely? Those boys are 13, 14 and 15. How should I form the complimentary close to both boys and girls. Personal or impersonal?

CAMPFIRE GIRL
Answer—Write to boys and girls, make the boys' notes impersonal. Sign "Sincerely yours," "MARY SMITH." Boys' letters tend to be entitled to the prefix "Mr."

What is the correct letter paper for a young man? Should I use a large, oblong sheet of paper, when folded twice, fit into envelopes of the same width, is correct for a man's social station. He may use a crest or monogram, if he wishes, preferably enclosed without color, but generally speaking, a man's stationery is plain or lettered with his full name and address, or with the address only. Except for the business card, the name does not appear with the address on the flap of the envelope. A man uses either white, granite-gray or buff-colored stationery.

"I know that Scotty pulled the trick that trapped us and it worked out all right. Now that you've won the war, you ought to let me go at least."
